MARBLE HILL..... MISSOURI Solitude is a place where they never advertise. — Philadelphia Saturday

The women continue to wear their half to suit themselves, rather than Mr. Carnegie.

If "Mrs. Warren's Profession" is too tough for New York, it must be almighty tough.

As a small concession to common sense William Waldorf Astor does not wear a monocle.

Sir Frederick Treves says sickness marry the nurse.

Usually when a man reaches the turn in the lane he finds that it turns in the wrong direction.

The duke business in Russia isn't likely to be as profitable in the future as it has been in the past.

That Denver man who has never been kissed is going to disappoint some woman badly one of these days.

The mystery of Edwin Drood has for the man who struck Billy Patter-Stuyvesant Fish has paid one of his wire's bills at last. Oh, these women!

They always have their way sooner or In the glorious golden autumn lovely woman bays a frock, and the frost is on the wallet and the neighbors get n shock.

A Tennessee state senator who led a raid on his son's poker game probably gave the young man the surprise of his life.

The American contractor is to build the Panama canal. There is nothing in this world he is not ready to undertake and execute.

According to the new state census. is 4.014.304. This will make Chicago | documentary evidence. feel worse than ever.

A check for $22,035.875.50 has just been signed by the assistant secretary of the treasury, but it wasn't drawn on his personal account.

King Alfonso traveled incognito through France on his way to Germany. That's the only way that rovalty can have a real good time.

Men are the real slaves of fashion. in Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish's opinion; look at the hats they wear. Well, look at the things called hats women

An eastern poet says: "The morning fight is breaking." It may be, however, that it is the cook smashing a few cut-glass finger bowls in the kitchen.

An Omaha man who lost his job at the age of 104 and then tried to commit suicide will be excused for thinking that he had reached the end of William Schaus, a scientist, has given 26,000 moths to the American Museum of Natural History, The common practice of donating dollars did not appeal to him.

A Massachusetts man has been appointed to the consulship at Vladivostok-a place that seems very much more attractive now than it did three or four months ago.

A fleet may be sent to compel the sultan to make reforms in Macedonia. In arguing with the more or less sublime porte there is nothing quite so persunsive as big guns.

A Long Island man who is 40 years old and minus a leg bested his 16-yearold son in a race for the affections of a 14-year-old girl. The Osler limit certainly does not apply here.

Now they're asking: "In a football game between college players and pugilists, which would win?" As well ask, in a flirtation between a man and woman which would have the best of

When every paper in the country has paid due and proper attention to the fact that toothpicks are not considered good form at the University of Chicago the incident may be regarded as closed.

Eggs laid on Sunday in Cumberland, Ky., will hereafter be devoted to converting the heathen. But the heathen is foxy. He will doubtless meet the emergency by doing his heathening behind a net.-Chicago Journal.

Oscar St. Cyr has made a new world's record for swimming forty yards in the tank of the Chicago Ath letic association, covering the distance in twenty-one seconds-and there wasn't any alligator behind him.

Prof. Wiley proposes to test the ef fects of cold storage food on the hu man system. It is to be hoped that he will try the cold storage egg himself. so that he may speak from personal experience instead of merely observing its effect on some hired man.

Hall Caine, leaving for Europe, says that he is not quite prepared to say that he's about to write a book about the conditions of the wealthy class in the United States, and as he has been over here only for three weeks, he certainly is not prepared to write the book.

An Iowa woman, angry with her hus band, spatched a framed motto, "God Bless Our Home," from its fastenings and smashed it on the bald head of her husband. It doesn't seem to have been effective on the wall.

A young man in New York has ins achieved the feat of writing 2,099 words in thirty minutes on the type writer, but probably not many of them were as long as "incomprehensibility,"

Sing Duck, a New York Chinaman is iz trouble because he is alleged to have used his knife too freely. You can't judge a Chinaman by his name

The expenses of athletics at "a" have increased from $17,000 in 1882 t $75,000 in 1904 but Yale wins more BURN VLADIVOSTOK, inhabitants Flee in Terror to Vessets in the Harbor, St. Petersburg: The upheaval in Russia following the promulgation of the reform manifesto has now reached

Vladivostok and Yeniseisk and other extreme points of the empire.

Confirmation has been received from various sources of the reported upris ing at Vladivostok, where the condition of affairs is quite critical. Many persons have been killed and the foreigners have taken refuge on the ships in the harbor. Many public buildings, stores and houses have been pillaged and set fire to by the mob.

The American embassy has received from Consul Greene at Vladivostok tails of the outbreak which began Sun day afternoon immediately after the departure of the Russian cruisers Gremobol and Rossia. The people who is a blessing. Perhaps he intends to had gathered in great crowds in the streets became excited by inflammatory speeches. Many soldiers and sailors were also in an angry mood, having expected to go home with the squadron.

> The mon began to break windows and pillage, and then set fire to the theater, the Golden Horn Hotel, to several blocks of Chinese buildings in the northern part of the city and to the officers' residences and other buildings in the eastern quarter. The fires burned all night. Seventy buildings were consumed. Troops were summoned to restore order and fired frequent vollevs, killing many persons.

. been solved, but we are still searching Just before the American Consul telegraphed the commandant of the forpriests and the leaders of the workmob, urging them to keep the peace, but the Consul said he feared the at> tempt would be in vain. Mr. Greene added that twenty-four merchant vessels in the harbor were now crowded with inhabitants. The Consul was on board a steamer when he sent his dispatch, and expects to > remain there. Odessa: News has reached here of fresh disorders in the small town of Krivoirog, in the Government of Ekaterinoslav, in which over a hundred persons were killed and the town was sacked and half-burned.

Three influential Jews left Odessa for St. Petersburg to present to the Council of Ministers a full account of the population of Greater New York | the outbreak at Odessa, supported by

DRUMMERS HELD UP.

Four Men Rob Eeight Travelers at Gallatin Crossing.

Chillicothe, Mo.: Four stockily-built men, unmasked, walked into the station at the Wabash crossing near Gallatin Monday night, drew pistols on the operator, forced him to open the cash drawer and robbed eight traveling men.

The drummers were lined against the side of the wall and while one bandit kept their hands up, two kept their revolvers in the face of the operator and the other stationed himself at the door

The leader of the desperadoes instructed the drummers to empty the contents of their pockets into a hat which one of the gang held. Looking down the glistening barrels of three guns the victims complied. The robbers refused to take watches and jewciry and did not molest the one woman in the depot.

The lady traveler gladly offered to contribute her share in the "collection," but the leader doffed his hat and declined her valuables with thanks remarking that he did not want to take money from a woman

WAS TO STOP SUITS.

Jas. H. Hyde Explains Use of "Yellow Dog" Fund.

New York: James H. Hyde, testify ing before the Insurance Investigating Committee Tuesday, said that the object of the mysterious $685,000 loan by the Mercantile Trust Co. to the Equitable Life Assurance Society was to buy off inconvenient suits, to buy up stock of the Equitable as it came into the market and to make political contributions.

Mr. Hyde said the only political contribution of which he knew was that of $25,000 to Cornelius N. Bliss, treasarer of the Republican National Committee in the last presidential campaign.

This contribution was solicited by H C. Frick, said Mr. Hyde.

Hyde who was a former vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, was the most conspicuous fig ure at the opening of Tuesday's session of the Armstrong Committee on Insurance Investigation.

Fortesque's Resignation Accepted. Washington: Acting Secretary Oliver accepted the resignation of Lieut. Granville R. Fortesque, 18th cavalry. Lieut. Fortesque was one of the of ficers mentioned in the Taggart divorce case at Wooster, Ohio. No reason is given for the resignation.

Jewish Fund Nears $500,000. New York: The national commit tee for relief of the sufferers by Rus sian massacres received $75,974 in additional subscriptions, making the to tal received $443,843. There are 114 cities in the Jewish pale of Russia and, ac ording to the cablegram received by Jacob H. Schiff in eighty one of these massacres have occurred. When Oscar Straus was asked how much he thought would be contributed by this country, he said $1,000,000. The committee thinks a larger sum will be needed.

Standard Oil Held Liable. Sioux Falls, S. D.: Carl Ogren, ; farmer living in Marshall county, recently instituted suit against the Standard oil company on behalf of himself and minor children for damages in the sum of $7,000 for the death of Mrs. Ogren, which was caused last November by the explosion of a kerosene lamp. The claim was based upon the allegation that the oil was adultérated with gasoline, resulting in the explosion which caused the plaintiffs judgment for $800.

Belleville Bride Asks $2000.

woman's death. The jury awarded

Terre Haute, Ind.: Mrs. Ella Hil abiddle has brought suit for $2000 against George Hiltabiddle, her fatherin-law, for alienating the affections of her husband. The son, who is only 19 years of age, married her in Belleville, Ill. The father went there, she alleges, and induced her son to return to Terre Haute with him. The defendant is an engineer at a glass fac-

It sometimes happens that a woman loves a tough man tenderly.

vaits our pleasure.'

ed in his mouth.

he drank deeply.

prought me hither!"

berg taken?

Theresa made the sign.

"Let him be unloosed," said John gazing eagerly at the prisoner, and Stolidly Ulrich unbound the broad andage from the man's eyes, and a grey badger's brush of upright stubole rose slowly above a high narrow brow, like laid corn that dries in the

"Alt Pikker!" said Joan of the

But the late prisoner did not speak

at once, though his captors stood back

as though to permit him to explain

ged. Discovering which, Max in a very philosophical and leisurely man-

Even then his throat refused its office till Werner von Orseln handed him a great cup of wine from which

"Speak!" said Joan. "What disas-

"The Eagles' Nest is harried, my lady, but that is not what hath

"Neither." returned Alt Pikker

"Alt Pikker!"

"Why? Wherefore? In what place?

Who would dare?" came from all the young man sat silent as if she

"To save Kernsberg from sack by the Muscovites Maurice von Lynar

to die for wedding the Princess Mar-

Again they cried out upon him in ntmost astonishment-that is, all the

"Maurice von Lynar has married

"Well," put in Alt Pikker, "at all

"But why? We knew nothing of severally von Orseln and the Plassenwith assurance, "Because he loved

'Why?" said Theresa, the mother,

And Theresa being calm and stilling the others. Alt Pikker got time to the grange of Isle Rugen while it was being told, and even when it was

Theresa smiled well pleased and said

After that they made their plans.

influence with my brother-or, if not with him, at least with the folk of Courtland. We will stop this heathen-

"I will go," said Theresa, "because

"We will all go!" chorused the cap-

"Who will remain here on Isle

"You need not trouble yourselves!

will not remain on Isle Rugen-not an hour," said Joan. "Whoever stays, will go to Courtland. We will tell

Prince Louis that I am no duchess, but only the sister of a duke. We will prove to him that my father's bond of heritage-brotherhood is null and void. And then we will see whether he is willing to turn the princedom upside down for such a

"For such a wife," thought Conrad.

I would turn the universe upside down, though she stood in a beggar's

But being loyally bound by his

It was Theresa von Lynar who put

"At a farm on the mainland, hidden among the salt marshes there are horses-those you brought with you

She added in her heart, "Or if not,

Strangely enough, Theresa was the

Her heart was proud within her

"He is Henry the Lion's son. He dowerless wife as I!'

promise he said nothing.

the matter practically.

with a great pride.

kirtle!

his man to die in my stead?

go Think you that I will permit

Rugen with the Duchess Joan?" They ooked at each other as they spoke.

he is my son. God will show me a ains; "that is—all save Werner—'

"I will go," said Conrad, "for I have events, he hath married the Princess.

torn to pieces by wild horses."

we delivered him up!"

same thing!"

burg captains.

nis father's son!

sh abomination.

way to help him."

"All except Boris-!"

"All except Jorian-!"

Joan. "He is to die for me!"

er has brought you here? Is Kerns-

Sword Hand, starting to her feet.

And Alt Pikker it surely was.

CHAPTER XXVI.-Continued. Conrad stood a moment mutely wrestling with himself. A larger self seemed to flame and dilate within the oung man. "One thing I can do" he said-"like you, I can obey. She bade me go back and do my duty. I cannot bind my thought; I cannot change my heart; I cannot cast my love out. have heard that which I have heard, and I cannot forget; but at least with the body I can obey. I will perform my vow; I will keep my charge to the letter, every jot and tittle. And if God condemn me for a hypocritewell, let him! He, and not I, put this love into my heart. My body may be my priesthood's-I will strive to keep it clean-but my soul is my lady's. For that let him east both soul and himself. He was still bound and gagody into hell fire if he will!"

Theresa von Lynar did not smile any more. She held out her hand to ner assisted him to relieve himself of Conrad of Courtland, priest and a rolled kerchief which had been plac-

"Yes." she said. "you do know what love is. In so far as I can I will help you to your heart's desire."

CHAPTER XXVII.

To the Rescue. It was the hour of the evening meal at Isle Rugen. At the table head ant tress of Vladivostok, assisted by Theresa von Lynar, her largely molded and beautiful face showing no sign men's organizations, addressed the of emotion. On either side of her were Joan and Prince Conrad-not sad, neither avoiding nor seeking the contingence of eye and eye, but yet, in spite of all, so strange a thing is love once declared, happy within their heart of hearts.

It had been growing wilder and wilder without, and the shrill lament of the wind was distinctly heard in the wide chimney top. Now and then in a lull, broad splashes of rain fell solidly into the red embers with a sound like musket balls "spatting" on a wall.

Then Theresa von Lynar looked up. "Where is Max Ulrich?" she said; why does he delay? "My lady," one of the men of Kernsperg answered, saluting, "he is gone > not yet returned." "I will go and look for him-nay, do not rise, my lord. I would go forth across the Haff in the boat, and has alone!" Theresa stood upon the inner curve of the Haff at the place where Max Ulrich was wont to pull his boat ashore. She looked long southward under her hand, but for the moment could see nothing.

And though Theresa von Lynar was yet in the prime of her glorious beanty, one could see what she must | "Maurice von Lynar is in the hand of have been in the days of her girlhood. his cruel enemies, and on the day And as memory caused her eyes to after to-morrow at sunrise, he is to be grow misty and the smile of love and trust eternal came upon her lips. twenty years were shorn away, and the woman's face which had looked about the table; but the mother of anxiously across the darkening Haff changed to that of the girl who from | had not heard. the gate of Castle von Lynar had watched for the coming of Duke

She turned and walked back facing the storm. Her hood had been blown from her head by the furious gusts of wind. But she heeded not. She had forgotten poor Max Ulrich and Joan, and even herself. She had forgotten her son. Her hand was out in | garet of Courtland!" the storm now. She did not draw it back, though the water ran from her finger tips. For it was clasped in an | men unseen grasp and in an ear that surely heard she was whispering her the Princess Margaret of Courtland. heart's troth. "God give it to me to Impossible!" do one deed-only one before I die-

that, worthy and unashamed, I may ber cried out. meet my king." When Theresa re-entered the hall Joan of the Sword Hand, disdainful of Max." she said, "perhaps he has of their masculine ignorance. waited at the landing place on the mainland till the storm should abatethough that were scarce like him, Or she has married him, which is the Joan and Conrad spoke they scarce knew what, all for the pleasure of this! He told us nothing. We thought eye answering eye, and the subtle he went for our lady's sake to Courtflattery of voices that altered by the land! Why did he marry her?" cried millionth of a tone each time they addressed one another. Theresa answered vaguely but sufficiently and allowed herself to dream, till to her yearning gaze honest sturdy Werner her doubtless. How? Because he was grew misty and his bluff figure resolved itself into that nobler and more kingly which for years had fronted her at the table's end where tell his tale. There was silence in now the chief captain sat. Thus they were sitting when there came a clamor at the outer door, the ended for a space none spoke. But noise of voices, then a soldier's challenge and Max Ulrich's weird answer in her heart, "I thank God! My son of the grange the company still sat as also shall meet. Henry the Lion face she had left them. "There is no sign to face and not be ashamed."

For the moment she could see nothing -a sound almost like the howl of a wolf cut off short in his throat by the hand that strangles him

"There he is at last!" cried all in the dining hall or grange They waited the long moment of suspense till the door behind Werner was thrust open and the dumb man came in, drenched and dripping. He was holding one by the arm, a man as tall as himself, grey and gaunt, who fronted the company with eyes bandaged and hands tied behind his back. and others. They are in waiting for Max Ulrich had a sharp knife in his such an emergency. Max will bring hopeful and happy in his pastorate, in hand with a thin and slightly curved them to the landing-place. Three or spite of the small pay, of whom he blade, and as he thrust the pinioned four of your guard must accompany man before him into the full light of him. The rest will make ready, and the candles, he made signs that, if at the first dawn we will set out. his lady wished it, he was prepared There is yet time to save my son!" to dispatch the prisoner on the spot. His lips moved rapidly and he seemed then to avenge him." to be forming words and sentences. His mistress followed these move- least downcast of the party.

ments with the closest attention. He says," she began to translate, 'that he met this man on the further side. He said that he had a message was born a duke. He has married "One wife and six children."

a princess. He has tasted love and the thinknown sacrifice. If he dies it will be TO AWE THE SULTAN for the sake of his sister's honor. 'Tis no bad record for twenty years. These things he will count high above fame and length of days!"

The little company which set out from Isle Rugen to ride to Courtland had no thought or intention of rescufor Isle Rugen, and refused to turn ing Maurice von Lynar by force of eack on any condition. So Max blindarms. They knew their own impotfolded, bound and gagged him, he beence far too exactly. ing willing to be bound. And now he

If her renunciation of her dignities were laughed at, as she feared, there was nothing for Joan but to deliver berself to Prince Louis. She had resolved to promise to be his wife and princess in all that it concerned the outer world to see. Their provinces would be united, Kernsberg and Hohenstein delivered into his hand. On his part, Werner von Orseln was prepared to point out to the Prince of Courtland that with Joan as his wife, and the armies and levies of Hohenstein added to his own under the Sparhawk's leadership, he would be in a position to do without the aid of the Prince of Muscovy altogether. Further, that in case of atack from the north, not only Plassenourg and the Mark, but all the Teuonic Bond must rally to his side. Conrad, who was intimately ac quainted with the character of his prother, and who knew how entirely e was under the dominion of Prince Ivan had resolved to use all powers. eclesiastical and secular, which his position as titular Prince of the Church put within his reach. (To be continued.)

LITERALLY AS SHE WAS TOLD.

"Have they found out this my-Cook Lady Only Obeyed Orders of the prison? Are they coming to capture Mistress.

"Speaking of the vital question of he hour, the servant," said Mrs. Young Matron, "I engaged a cook lady last week who came well recommended. After she had been with me several days I said to her, 'I will stir up a fruit cake, but I want you to attend o the baking of it. Bake the cake,' said I impressively, 'one hour by the clock!' pointing to one of those cheap affairs, made of metal of some kind, hat hung on the kitchen wall.

"'Sure, mum,' Nora replied. "I went upstairs, took my sewing and soon the hum of the sewing machine broke the stillness. After a while my nostrils were assailed by a most peculiar odor. I sniffed the atmosphere, trying to determine what he smell might be, for sometimes rash was thrown into the furnace along with the coal. It smelled neither like burning rags, paper nor rubper. I threw down my sewing and hastened to the kitchen. "'What is burning, Nora?' I exclaimed. "'Faith, mum, it must be the clock, she replied.

"'The clock! What do you mean? "Nora opened the oven door, disclosing the cake and what was left of the clock 'side by each.' I grabbed the oal souttle and hurriedly raked into t the smelly mass. "'What on earth, Nora,' I demanded made you put the clock in the oven! Are you crazy? "'Crazy, is it? she made answer in tones that a tragedy queen might have envied, 'and I just a-followin' your orders. Didn't you tell me yourself. Nora, bake the cake one hour went to Courtland in the guise of the by the clock?" "-- Lippincott's Maga-

Lady Joan. At the fords of the Alla "He went for my sake!" moaned HIS BUCKET-SHOP EXPERIENCE "Nay," corrected Alt Pikker, "he is Uncle Reuben Got Left No Matter

> How the Market Went. "I've allus had a curiosity to know what a bucket shop was," said Uncle Reuben as he got back from the city and was waiting for his mail at the postoffice, "and when I got up town today I asked a policeman to direct me

'And why should he not?" his moth-"'Mister,' says I to a feller when got inside, 'is this what you call a "I expected it from the first!" quoth bucket shop? "'It is,' he replied. 'We keep all kinds of buckets here." "'How much for a dozen?" "'Want to buy 'em on spec?'

"'I reckon.' "'All right. You put up $2 and ome in half an hour later.' "I give up my $2 and took a stroll, said Uncle Reuben, "and I was back there within an hour

"'Buckets went down after you left says the feller, 'and you've lost your $2. Better put in two more and see i you can't hit the market." "I handed over two more and took another stroll. When I got back the feller says to me: "Buckets went up after you and you have lost your $2." " 'Buckets went down and I lost, and buckets went up and I lost. How does a feller ever make anything?" "'Oh, you buy a well to go with your bucket,' says he. 'Gimme $4 and take another walk."

'But you didn't?' was asked. "Not much! I hunted around and found a place where they was holding a markdown sale on hot-water bags and got a dozen for 50 cents apiece. They beat buckets all to smash for carryin' hot water around the house! -Baltimore American.

Breaking it Gently. In a certain Danish province noted for its superlor breed of cattle, the country people are not only very thrif ty, but exceedingly fond of their cows as may be gathered from the following characteristic story which has recent been told:

Farmer Jan was walking sadly lown the road one day, when the village pastor met him. "Why so sad, Farmer Jan?" said he pastor.

"Ah! I have a very sad errand, pas or," replied Jan. "What is it?" "Farmer Henrik's cow is dead in my pasture, and I am on my way to tell him." "A hard task, Jan." "Indeed it is pastor, but I shall reak it to him gently." "How will you do that?"

"I shall tell him first that it is his mother that is dead, and then, having opened the way for the telling of sadder news, I shall say to him that it is not his mother, but the cow!" Bishop Mallalieu Heard the Reasons.

Bishop Mallalieu always advocated paying better salaries to ministers. He told once of a capital young fellow Steel Trust Buys Iron. lost sight for twelve and fifteen years. One day the bishop met him in Boston, looking prosperous. "What church are you in?" asked the bishop.

"Oh," he said, regretfully, "no richness. church: the wholesale hat business' "Why did you leave the church?" "For seven reasons." "What were they?" asked the bishop.

Powers of Europe Committed to Naval Demonstration.

London: The powers are now fully committed to the coercion of Turkey and the execution of a policy that promises to create a situation of the first importance to the world at large, An international fleet of about twen ty warships will assemble in Greek waters a few days hence, and a socalled demonstration will take place,

either at the entrance to the Dardanelles or at some Turkish port in Asia

Minor, to compel the sultan to accept scheme of financial reforms in practically the whole of European Turkey, The scheme, in a nutshell, provides for the collection of taxes by local authorities, such as the village headmen, the whole to be under the supervision of a representative of the powers. A similar plan was submitted to the sultan by a private syndicate a year ago under the guise of a loan which was to be guaranteed by the taxes thus collected, and ample funds were offered by London and Berlin capitalists but the offer was rejected. chiefly owing to the objection of the Ottoman bank. The bulk of the taxes are now stolen by Turkish authorities appointed by the Constantinople government. . The sultan regards the present demands as a direct infringement of his sovereignty-in effect, notice to quit Europe. He will never yield; indeed, he can not do so. He has attained the object of his thirty years' ambition, thanks chiefly to the Armenian massacres, which Europe allowed to go unpunished, and in his victory over the Greeks he has gained control over all Islam and has been recognized as the caliph of the Mohammedans in the entire globe.

The wonderful renaissance of pan Islamism has for its object a holy war against infidels, and the mass of the followers believe that it is at hand. Abdul Hamed, as the head of this immense force, can not yield a fraction more of his sovereignty without resistance and without summoning all of his faith to his assistance.

THE REIGN OF TERROR. Lists of Prominent Citizens Marked

for Assassination. St. Petersburg: It is generally believed here that both Germany and Austria have given Russia assurances of support, but of what nature cannot Whether or not this is true, both Germany and Austria naturally are interested, each of them having a Polish problem on their hands, in not raising the Polish hopes of a restoration of the ancient kingdom of Poland, and the present movement in Poland certainly will not receive the sympathy of the Government beyond the west-Advices received by the Government from Odessa this morning state that a new reign of terror has broken out there. Lists have been posted around the streets giving the names of hundreds of citizens who have been marked by the terrorists for assassination. As a result, numbers of the best citizens of the town are fleeing to other parts for safety. Orders have been sent to the Miliary Governor to take extra precau-

No autonomy for Poland on the Fin nish line is of the dictum of the Government. Of this the authorities in Poland have been advised, and at the same time a state of war has been declared there.

It has raised a great uproar in Warsaw, Lodz and other places. Information comes this morning of a possible uprising to separate the ten governments of Poland absolutely from Russia, but not much attention is paid to this for the Poles have not the sympathy of the army, as have the people in Russia proper. HAMILTON MUST REPAY.

McCall Says If Legislative Agent of a circus train were ditched near Does Not, He Will. New York: John A. McCall, president of the New York Life Insurance | her cubs and was recaptured. Co., was called before the Insurance Investigating Committee Monday and was ordered by the committee to de- phleet and killing horses and cows mand the return to this country of Andrew Hamilton and an account of Four employes are missing: James the moneys which Hamilton has expended and for which the New York

Chicago: Percy Jones, St. Louis, and Life Insurance Co. holds no vouchers beyond personal receipts. Hamilton has represented life insurance companies before the Legislature at Albany and is now believed to be in Europe Mr. McCall said that if Hamilton does not repay to the New York Life from the company and has not ac-

Insurance Co. before Dec. 31. Contributions for Jews Pour In. New York: Contributions to the Jewish relief fund are pouring in from | ian parliament unanimously elected all over the country. Telegrams were Prince Charles of Denmark to be received Monday morning at the national headquarters showing that: Pittsburg has pledged $25,000, Chi- filed the fortress is firing a royal sa cago has $15,000 and expects to raise | lute of forty-two guns in honor of the $50,000. Louisville has collected $5,000 | new king. The formal coronation will and has $20,000 more to get, Cincinnati has $6,000 and $24,000 more Prince Charles of Denmark was read pledged, Des Moines, Ia., and St. Jo- in the storthing. It announced that seph, Mo., each have forwarded $1,500 he would take the name of Haakor and Kansas City $1,800 for the suffer- VII., and that he would confer on his ers in Russia.

Father at Eighty-Seven. Forest, O.: With a prattling boy born this week, Andrew Saley, aged 87 years, and father of the cherub. says he is the happiest man in Hardin County. Mrs. Saley, the mother, is 82 years of age.

El Paso, Tex.: Information from Durango is that the American Steel Trust has bought the famous Mountain of Iron, near there, running almost pure iron good for steel manufacture. It is one of the world's wonders and is said to be unequaled in Robert Whitehead Dies. London: Robert Whitehead, invenfor of the torpedo which bears his road station at Kutais, Transcaucasia tame, died Tuesday at Shrivenham, was shot and killed. The assassin es

FOR SEA-LEVEL CANAL.

Majority of Engineers Urge Construction Without Locks.

Washington: The board of consulting engineers of the isthmian canal commission have declared by a large majority in favor of a sea-level canal. The conclusion was reached after a long and careful study of the project. Since the beginning of September the board had held meetings, and in special subcommittees had studied the plans for a sca-level canal with the greatest care. A trip to the isthmus was made to enable the members to form a better idea of the physical disficulties which had to be considered. The members of the board are men of the greatest reputation in their line of work. France, Germany and Holland had sent their most eminent specialists at the request of the Amercan government. From the beginning it was evident that a majority of the members favored a scalevel canal. Their point of view was that, even if it east more than a lock canal, it would ultimately be of greater use, as it will enable ships to make a much shorter trip than if they were obliged to go through three of four locks.

SLAIN BY ASSASSIN.

Miss Eva Mayer Shot Down in Walking With Escort. Cieveland, O.: Miss Eva Mayer left a dance hall on West Madison avenue at 10 o'clock Sunday night. She was accompanied by a young man. Ten minutes later she was lying on the street dead, with a bullet through her brain, her escort fleeing in fear, and her assassin skulking off through the tall grass that borders the sidewalk.

The girl was laughing and chatting with Louis Hora, her escort. Both were happy and jolly. Suddenly there rose up a dark figure in the long grass, just a pace away, a glistening revolver was thrust forward, and there came three shots in rapid succession. The first pierced the girl's groin, the second tore a hole in the rim of Hora's hat and the third went wild The girl, left lifeless, without uttering a cry, her escort fled down the street. and the murderer escaped in the dark ness. A few moments later the police found the body of Miss Mayer, lying where it had fallen. She was identified and then taken to the Morgue. The police at once started an inves tigation with the result that six young men were locked up in connection with the murder.

BOUND AND GAGGED.

J. E. McGarvey, Kenyon College Student, Assaulted. Gambier, O.: Bound hand and foot and gagged, left unconscious on the floor of his room in Bexley Hall Saturday night, James E. McGarvey, 8 udent in the theological seminary of Kenyon College, was the victim presumably of the "unknown parties" mentioned by Coroner Scarbrough in his verdict as baving tied

Stewart Pierson to the railroad track, The student body is much aroused over the assault, and is aiding Sheriff Clements and the Mount Vernon police in investigating it. It is believed that McGarvey gave the information to the Coroner which led him to investigate the Pierson case, as a note planed to his clothing by the assail ants contained these words: "This will do for this time, but if we come again it will be worse." McGarvey was found helpless in his rooms shortly before midnight Saturday by his roommate, John Brooke son of Bishop Brooke of Oklahoma. A dollar and a half had been taken from his clothing and a gold signet ring valued at $8 had been jerked from his finger. The trousers, which contained money, had not been searched.

WILD ANIMALS ESCAPE.

Cars Ditched and Snakes Terrorize Arkansas Farmers. Arkansas City, Ark.: A lioness and ten big snakes escaped when two cars

Norphieet, Ark., early Saturday morning. Later the lioness returned for The snakes, all over 20 feet long are terrorizing farmers about Nor The circus will lose about $20,000 Walls, candy salesman, from Mem phis; Charles Rankin, animan man

Fletcher Leggett, Cincinnati.

Children See Suicide. Marshalltown, Ia.: Gus Grant, aged 52, a laborer, sent for him two children, whose mother is dead, to come to his boarding house. When they Insurance Co. before Dec. 15, the sum | arrived he took a drink of whisky and of $235,000 which Hamilton received then reaching in his pocket, pulled out a revolver and shot himself counted for, he (McCall) will pay the through the head, dying after a few amount himself to the New York Life | hours of agony. He gave no warning of his intention to suicide. Elects Charles King. Christiania, Norway: The Norweg king of Norway. There were 110 members present. As this dispatch is take place July 27. A telegram from son the name of Olaf.

Has Book Taken from Tyler. Wellsville, Mo.: John Ed Smith manager of a telephone company of this city, has an interesting book, entitled "Military Laws, Rules and Regulations of the United States, Including the Constitution as Originally Chicago, Ill.: President Harper of Adopted." The book was printed in the University of Chicago was able to May, 1838, and is well preserved. On leave his sickroom Monday for the the fly leaf written in pencil, is the first time since Oct. 1. He was suf- following: "This book was captured fering less pain than usual and delin the residence of ex-President John clared that he felt better than for sev- Tyler, this 24th day of June, 1864, by George Snyder, Charles City, Va."

Hyde to Make His Home Abroad. New York: James Hazen Hyde former first vice president of Equitable life assurance society, has given orders for the sale of the costly furniture and other effects in his country, place at Bay Shore, Long Island. and they will be put under the hammer within a few days. It is expected that shortly after the sale Mr. Hyde will go abroad to live.

The assistant manager of the railcaped,

CZAR'S TROOPS MUTINY

Forty-Two Officers Shot for Conspiracy

in Manchurian Army.

St. Petersburg: A mutiny in the Manchurian Army is the latest sensational rumor in this city. According to the report the Emperor has received a dispatch from General Linevitch, telling him of a revolt among the troops, which was only suppressed after a regular fight, in which many soldiers were killed or wounded. Forty-two officers are reported to have been shot for participation in the conspiracy. No confirmation of the rumor is obtainable from officials of the war office. Rioting is general over Russia Friday and the political strike is spreading. Bank clerks telephone girls and some of the professional leagues have joined in the revolutionary movement; At Dzermis, Caucasus, a railroad switch was thrown open, resulting in a collision between two military trains. Fifteen soldiers were wounded. After the collision the trains were fired upon from the hills the soldiers defending themselves behind the railroad embankment. At Poti, Transcaucasia, the railroad employes struck. The rails were torn up and thrown into the Black Sea.

Many of the telegraph wires were cut. An attempt was made Friday to assassinate the Governor of Riga. While he was riding in a carriage through the streets, a shot was fired at him from an alley, but the bullet missed its mark. The would-be assassin escaped. It is certain that the workmen's council has received mysterious supplies of funds, and consequently they present a bolder front

WHITECAP WITNESS SLAIN.

Mail Carrier Who Caused Indictment Victim of Assassins.

arrier at Brookhaven, Miss., was murdered in cold blood near that place by whitecaps. Several weeks ago, during the whitecap trials at Jackson, Miss., he was an important witness against several of the parties. The body was found alongside that of his horse, with two bullet wounds in his back and his own pistol by his side. Agams knew his life was in dan-testimony caused the indictment of 300 citizens. John Nettles and Will Nixon are unger, but was absolutely fearless. His der arrest charged with the crime. FOR MRS. CHADWICK.

Mobile, Ala.: "Pink" Adams, a mail

Rehearing Before Supreme Court Will Be Asked. Cleveland: Ex-Judge F. J. Wing, counsel for Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick.

announced Tuesday that an application for a writ of certiorari is now bethe Supreme Court of the United States with a view of obtaining a review of Mrs. Chadwick's case before that tribunal The Supreme Court will be asked to consider Mrs. Chadwick's case on the general ground that errors were made in her trial here before the United States District Court and also in the United States District Court of Appeals at Cincinnati.

SIR LIPTON MARRIED.

British Yachtsman's Quest for Country Seat Reveals Story. Boston: A special cable from London says it is reported among those who know Sir Thomas Lipton well that he is a benedict, having married a Scotch lassie in humble circumstances years ago, before he dreamed of reaching his present condition of prosperity. People who knew Sir Thomas in his youth say the facts are well-known to certain people. Sir Thomas himself has not a word to say on the subject. Announcement is made that he is seek-in Wicklow or Meath.

ing a country seat in Ireland, either

REVOLT IN CUBA. Artillerymen Dispatched From vana to Quell Uprising.

New York: A dispatch from Ha vana states that an uprising has occurred at Manzanillo, and that troops supposedly destined for Santiago are really for Manzanillo. Dispatches from Santiago say that a mysterious movement of the local police and rural guards has been going on several days. One hundred artillerymen were sent from Havana. A special train service was asked on account of the necessity for the early arrival of troops. Earthquakes in Italy. Rome: Earthquakes continue to occur in Calabria. There have been shocks at Pizzo, Monteleone, Marano and Amatia. The inhabitants are sleeping in the open, their houses having been damaged. Adopts Flance as Her Son. Buda-Pesth: Mme. Prielle, who made a fortune as an actress at the Hungarian national theatre, has decided to adopt as her son a young author named Rozynyay, whom she was engaged to marry. She was 86 years of age, and her family attempted to prevent the union by obtaining a decree of the court depriving her of the control of her estate. Thereupon she declared that she had given up all idea of marrying the author, but would adopt him and would leave him her property by will. Sash and Door Trust to Dissolve. Milwaukee, Wis.: The Evening Wisconsin says that at a meeting in Chicago of the Western manufacturing companies, better known as the sash and door trust, it was decided by a unanimous vote to retire from busi-Negro Preacher Kills His Wife. Greenville. Tex.: Rev. Jim W. Wade, a negro Baptist preacher, shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide. It was the culmination of a previous quarrel. Renews Crisis in Venezuela. Caracas: The refusal of France to transmitted by the United States Minister Russel renews the crisis. It accept France's threatening proposi-Safeblowers Get $1,000 is impossible for President Castro to Fort Worth, Tex.: Robbers blew the safe in the store of Robert Hudson at Newark, Tex., securing over $1.000. The building was not damaged.